Remembering Bill Cody

Colleagues and friends share favorite memories of the late Country Radio Hall of Famer Bill Cody (Chronicle 6/10):

• WSM-AM/Nashville's Nan Kelley: This man was a treasure to no telling how many listeners, artists, colleagues, his precious family and to those of us who were lucky enough to call him friend. I called him Brother Bill. And he called me "Bass's Belly Kelley." We did a lot of TV shoots at GAC and on one, I noticed my self-tanner didn't quite take well on my arm. I was showing Bill how bad it looked when he said, "Goodness girl, the underneath of your forearm is so white it looks like a bass's belly!" We all fell apart, and I think it may have made the edit on TV. So that was my name from then on.

Bill Cody

• The Grand Ole Opry's Dan Rogers: As I shared when dedicating Saturday's show to Bill, I believe he perfectly personified the Grand Ole Opry. Bill nurtured new stars, celebrated superstars and revered the legends of our genre. He both looked toward the future and recalled our past with the same big ole Bill Cody smile. The outpouring of love for Bill in the last weeks of his life and since we lost him last Tuesday has been amazing, but not surprising. Everyone loved Bill Cody. Everyone has a Bill Cody story. For me personally, it was Bill who – not too long after I began working at the Opry as an intern in 1998 – gave me the nickname "Opry Dan." I mean, how did I get so lucky? Of all the people who'd come and gone from the Opry in its 70+ years, "Opry Dan" somehow rolled off Cody's tongue. He and his friend Hazel Smith then called me that without fail until others began following suit. Bill always asked about my parents by name, and he wouldn't just casually ask for an update from my hometown. Instead, he'd do it with his signature style. Something like, "What do you say, Big Boy? What's the latest from Xenia, IL – self-proclaimed Garden Capital of the World?" As I said, I am far from alone. Everyone loved Bill because he was that way with everybody. All of us could write volumes and volumes about Bill, but I'll simply say he was the best friend the Opry could have."

• Television producer Bret Wolcott: He was one of the few people I know who was not only living their dream, but also seemed to wake up every day being both grateful and in awe of that. And that showed in his

How To Super-Size A Radio Tour

TLDR: Six shows, two days, two cities, two stations and one fastball. iHeartMedia's WPOC/Baltimore & WMZQ/Washington, DC helped Big Machine's The Band Perry make a lot of noise in those two markets last week. Regional SVPP Jeff Kapugi says, "Every event exceeded expectations." And, with the right kind of artists, some version could be replicable.

Better Dig Too: In Maryland (l-r) are fiddle player Tessa Dalton, WPOC's Candace Dold, Kimberly Perry, iHeart's Michael J. and Johnny Costello.

The plan began when the label's Scott Borchetta and Jimmy Harnen asked Kapugi to join a Teams call. "Of course I thought they were looking to put the screws to me on a song," Kapugi says, "but they let me know they appreciated my support of TBP and wondered if I had any ideas for pouring gasoline on the fire."

Harnen and Borchetta were looking for "boots on the ground" solutions that reflected their own early days in music. "Scott suggested we take the band into the Baltimore-Washington corridor and build excitement through a series of pop-up performances," Harnen says. "Jeff loved the concept of bringing the band directly to the fans, but he expanded on it by suggesting that we combine the live appearances with radio support - having the band on-air in the mornings and promoting the events in advance to maximize attendance and engagement."

TBP joined morning hosts Michael J. and Candace Dold on WPOC, and the former on his WMZQ midday show. "We followed it up with a week of intense promotion, and did a little tradio for rooms and transportation," Kapugi says. "The venues did this for the exposure of a big event and we delivered."

On Tuesday (6/9), TBP started on the WPOC morning show at 7:30am, followed by local shows at 12:30pm (The Rec Room, Towson), 4:15pm (Power Plant Live, Baltimore) and 8:30pm (Cancun Cantina, Hanover). The next day (6/10), it was 12:30pm at the iHeartRadio Soundstage in Rockville, MD; 4:30pm at Starr Hills Brewery in Tysons, VA; and an 8pm show at Pearl Street Warehouse in the District. All shows were free and well received.

"Every venue was packed, the energy was incredible and fans were singing along not only to 'Psychological' but throughout the band's entire set," Harnen says. "The reaction exceeded our expectations in every way."

"Major kudos to my marketing team, who handled logistics like pros," says Kapugi. "I can't thank Kimberly Perry, Johnny Costello, Scott, Jimmy, Big Machine and TBP's management enough."

Harnen says the label is looking to do similar TBP events in other markets, and Kapugi believes other artists could benefit from the concept, as well. "TBP's familiarity helped for sure," he says. "Not sure you can do this with a brand newbie. It takes the right act, the right venues and the right plan."

As a bonus, the night before the Baltimore shows, The Band Perry were invited to throw out the ceremonial first pitch at the Orioles' game. "Kimberly said, 'I don't think I can reach home plate,' so Johnny did it," Harnen says. "He threw a strike!"

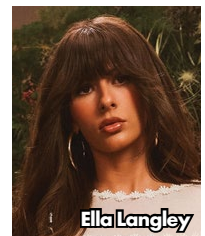

Song Pitch: Perry and Costello at the O's game.

MY TUNES

River House GM/VP Streaming & Radio Lance Houston shares a few of the songs you'll hear on the recently launched River House Radio:

- 1. Austin Snell, "Excuse The Mess": The River House artist/management client is an artist who has blurred the line between genres while remaining rooted in his Georgia upbringing. What we love about this new platform is the ability to expose some deep cuts and songs that might not feel like traditional Country radio singles to fans around the world. Austin's new EP, Colors, just came out in May and is down the middle country gold.
- 2. George Strait, "The Book": One of our RHA Publishing writers, Dean Dillon, wrote this song with George's son and his own daughter, Jessie Jo Dillon. An incredible addition to curating our station and a timeless example of true country legacy.
- 3. Megan Moroney, "Beautiful Things": Co-written by River House Publishing's Connie Harrington, "Beautiful Things" is a great example of the album cuts we hope to showcase on RHR. Our writers are some of the best in the world — Dillon, Harrington, Billy Strings, Dan Alley, Neil Medley and many more. You'll hear their songs every time you tune in, as well as special exclusive content and stories behind the co-writes.
- 4. Hudson Westbrook, "Two Way Drive": This is Hudson Westbrook's first song ever released. It went on to be his first No. 1 at Texas County Radio.
- 5. Luke Combs, "Hurricane": "Hurricane" was the first song released on River House Artists back in 2016. Luke was the company's flagship signing, and this song in particular paved the way for 10 years of milestones and memories.

Robert Earl Keen will welcome Ray Wylie Hubbard, Suzy Bogguss and Steve Poltz as performers during his "Fifth Annual Homecoming Weekend" Sept. 5-7 at Floore's Country Store in Helotes, TX. Details and tickets here.

David Nail has extended his Down To The Studs solo acoustic tour, with additional dates through the fall. Shows and tickets here.

Elizabeth Nichols will embark on her 15-show The I Don't Kiss And Tell, I Kiss And Tour Sept. 29 in San Diego. Dates and tickets (6/19) here.

daily "joie de vivre." All of my favorite moments with him point right back to that very essence of his character. See the photo (this page) with WSM-AM/Nashville's Charlie Mattos. Now that's joy!

Sometime around 2008, Bill and I were hanging out backstage at the Opry. We had just finished having a great conversation with Ricky Skaggs, who regaled us with stories about Bill Monroe. When Bill Cody and I left the room, I said something about what a gift it was to be able to hear those great stories of a bluegrass legend. Bill looked at me and said, "It's our job, you know. It's not just our blessing and gift, but our responsibility to pass them on. That's how this works. Bill Monroe tells the stories to Ricky, and Ricky passes them on. Porter tells his stories to Marty and Vince, and they pass them on. Most of those stories will never get written down, so they need to be passed on. That's how country music thrives for generations."

- CMA's Sarah Trahern: I first met Bill Cody in an RV on the infield of Atlanta Motor Speedway during Countryfest 1996. Rain delays gave us a few unexpected hours around the motorhome table, talking about life, family, and music. By the end of that afternoon, I felt like I knew [his wife] Rebecca and the kids through Bill's stories. He had that gift – making you feel connected to the people and things he loved most. A decade later, our paths crossed again at GAC, where Bill hosted our Master Series program. His deep love for country music and the artists who created it was evident in every interview he conducted. Two moments, both in the Rotunda of the Country Music Hall of Fame, remain especially memorable.

Good Buddy: "Even as an elf, Bill Cody (second from right) was the best," says former GAC colleague Suzanne Alexander (r). "The leotards were a bit uncomfortable, but he went full-on – ears and all!" Also pictured: Storme Warren and Nan Kelley.

The first was an interview with Eddy Arnold about a year before his passing. In the middle of sharing a story, Eddy suddenly broke into a cappella rendition of "Cattle Call." The entire crew stood transfixed, many of us with tears in our eyes, as Bill gently guided what would become Eddy's final interview. It was a masterclass in storytelling, respect, and grace.

The second was the day George Jones died. Bill and I sat cross-legged on the Rotunda floor, mapping out who we should call to share memories and reflections. His encyclopedic knowledge of country music history was invaluable, but what made Bill special was that he never wore that knowledge heavily. He was as authentic and down-to-earth as anyone from Cross Plains, TN could be.

Over the years, I often called him after his morning radio shift to talk about the artists he'd had on the show and, just as importantly, to get an update on Rebecca and the kids. Bill had a remarkable ability to bridge generations of country music fans. He was equally at home discussing the legends who built the genre and the newcomers carrying it forward.

We lost Bill far too soon. His voice, his knowledge, his kindness and his unwavering love for country music leave an irreplaceable void. Our hearts are broken, but we are grateful for the countless memories and the lasting impact he made on everyone fortunate enough to know him.

dariusrucker 2d I still vividly remember the first time I heard Bill Cody say my name. After spending so many years listening to him on the @Opry broadcast, hearing him acknowledge me that night was a moment that made every hair on my arms stand up. Getting to know him personally and discovering what a truly wonderful human being he was only deepened my admiration for him.

He was a true legend in our industry and a kind soul who will be greatly missed by us all. My thoughts are with his family and everyone at the Opry during this difficult time.

Rest in peace my friend.

bradpaisley Edited • 2d Devastated by this news. We loved you Bill. When the roll is called up yonder, I hope it's your voice.

carlypearce Edited • 2d I first met Bill backstage at the Opry back in 2014. "What's your name? You look like you sing" he said. He gave me his email that night & asked me to send him some of my music. I had nothing going on at the time, but he immediately became my champion and started having me in regularly on his radio show. Over the last decade, he became not only a mentor & champion, but my dear friend. He never greeted you with anything less than the warmest smile and devoted his life to country music. It feels cruel to think I will never hear his voice on WSM or hug his neck as I walk onto the Opry stage. I love you, Bill. Thank you for your belief in my talents from the beginning and for being my friend. I will miss you so very much. The last post is when I asked him to write something that I could use as I was having meetings trying to get a record deal all those years ago in 2014...

Trisha Yearwood @trishayearwood This one hits hard. Bill Cody was the ultimate country gentleman. His knowledge and love for country music is unmatched, and this community will feel his loss deeply. Sending all of my love and strength to Bill's family. Rest in peace, friend.

Lorrie Morgan 2d Our hearts are absolutely crushed. Bill Cody was my dear friend, a funny friend, & a great supporter of me, Keith Whitley, & Jesse Keith Whitley. We will miss him at the Grand Ole Opry, we will miss him at WSM Radio, we will miss him. Please keep his family & our country music family in your thoughts & prayers. There will truly never be another.

Clint Black 2d So many great memories, so many laughs with our friend, Bill Cody. Very sad to see him leave us so soon. His voice will echo in eternity.

thompsonsquare 2d Our hearts are broken at the news of our friend Bill Cody's passing. He was a country music institution and just a wonderful person. He brought so much joy to the fans and to the community and will be greatly missed. Our hearts go out to his family. We love you Bill.

like so many of us, i'm tuning in to WSM this morning with a heavy heart.

Bill Cody has been a constant presence throughout my 20 years in Nashville. it's hard to imagine a Nashville without him.

aside from his laughter (and his many great stories that often induced said laughter), my favorite thing about Bill was how he welcomed my dad into the fold over the years.

several times early on in my career, when i appeared on Coffee, Country, and Cody, an invitation was extended for my dad to tag along. those were always the best mornings.

i'll also miss walking into and out of the Opry circle shepherded by Bill's warm voice and kind smile.

thinking today of Bill's family at home, as well as his WSM and Opry family. what an immense loss for our country music community.

i might only have a few photos to share here, but the movies playing in my mind - particularly my dad sipping coffee a few feet from Bill in the old wsm studio - are giving me hours and hours of bittersweet laughter and tears today.

thank you, God, for the time and presence we all got with Bill Cody over the years ❤️

Vince and the entire country music community are mourning the loss of @WSMRadio and @Opry legendary voice, Bill Cody. So many memories, good times, and great conversations about music. He will be greatly missed!

therealtracylawrence • Edited • 2d
I'm very saddened to hear about the loss of my friend Bill Cody. We've been friends for over 35 years and I have shared many highlights of my career with him. Number 1 records, platinum parties, weddings, birthdays, and everything in between. In fact, one of those milestones came on Bill's very first day at @WSMRadio on April 25, 1994, when the first song he ever played on the station was "If the Good Die Young."

You will surely be missed, my friend, for your intelligent, cheerful commentary and unwavering support. You were a true lover of all things country music, and I'm honored to have known you.

Okay, this post is gonna be long.....it needs to be.

We got the sad news today that Bill Cody passed away. He was one of the good guys, y'all. A legendary DJ on WSM-AM morning drive. For decades. A great voice, just steady and warm and consistent. But here's the thing. He talked to ALL of us...veterans, like me, and newbies, and artists at the height of their careers. And, to a person, he made us all feel like he was our biggest fan. Not by fawning or anything like that, just with a gift for holding our stories. The moments that meant the most to us, the details about songs and the stories behind them, and tales of the road.....as if he was following each of us along during our career, and each of us was his favorite. He made you feel like you're the only person in the room, when he's talking to you.

I think if you look up "good man" in the dictionary, you'll find a picture of Bill. He was like a superhero.... handsome and talented. He hosted the Opry, too, and did it in his particular way, anchoring the entire, wide-ranging show with all its varied performers.

A few years ago, Bill did a TV show, I think it was 2 seasons. I was his 2nd guest....and, honored to be. It was called "Bill Cody Presents," and Garth Brooks was his first guest. We went to the house I lived in on Music Row, where I got my record deal and lived a block away from Allen Reynolds' studio and would go over to just hang out every afternoon and learn from the master. We went upstairs in what is now Wrensong, the publishing company that my now-husband wrote for. The publishing company was downstairs, and I rented the upstairs apartment. Wrensong was still there, doing their business out of that old house.

He knew all the details, and as I said before, was able to make you feel like your story was important, and interesting....fascinating, even.

He made his reputation making other people feel special. And THAT is a special gift to bring to the world. Rest in peace, friend. You will be sorely missed.....
