Personality Pick Me Up

Two weeks ago, Country Aircheck brought you consultant suggestions as programmers look to tighten their stations up for the fall book. Now, it's time to turn the focus to air talents. Noted talent coach and Texas Radio Hall of Famer Tommy Kramer (972-956-0609, www.tommykramer.net) urges personalities to get back to basics:

Tommy Kramer

- Make it matter: Remember that there's a huge difference between the listener having a passing interest in something versus something really *matter*ing to her. And beyond that, *matter*ing today. If it's generic, throw it in the waste basket. If it could be done any day, then it's not something that'll make your show about today in your market.

- Keep it simple: 1. Say the name of the station the first thing out of your mouth so I know who to give credit to for what I hear next. There's a reason the "Jif" label is on the outside of the jar. 2. Say something your listener cares about, then... 3. Move on to the next thing and stop talking. Resist the "one more line" syndrome, and remember that the listener is just as smart as you. She doesn't need you to explain it at the end, give her the moral of the story, or sum up what was just said.

- Bookends: Be clear how you want to start, and how you want to end. The middle will pretty much take care of itself.

CHART NOTE

Activator reporter KYKR/Beaumont, TX was pulled from this week's chart as the station continues to recover from Hurricane Ike. KYKR will return to the Activator panel next week.

Rucker On Radio

The No. 1 parade started last week for Darius Rucker on the Country Aircheck/Mediabase Activator chart, and reaches full-tilt with the ascension of "Don't Think I Don't Think About It" to the top spot of the CA/MB Top 50. Hearty congrats to Rucker, Jimmy Harnen, the entire promotion staff and everyone at Capitol.

Darius Rucker

Of course, as big a moment as this for Rucker and Capitol, it's not like airplay success is a new phenomenon for the Hootie & The Blowfish frontman. During a recent stop at Westwood One's CMT Country Countdown USA, Rucker told CA's Lon Helton how his two hit-making experiences have differed.

"We didn't have success until six months after the record was out," Rucker says of Hootie's launch. "With this, we decided there would be no hype. We weren't going to tell anyone how great it was. We just went in and told program directors, 'I'm doing a record, I've got a song, if you like it, play it.' And that went a long way, because [after] meeting the PDs, they all gave it a shot. They might not have if we had just sent it to them."

"I remember trying to figure out if this was going to be the first single or not. I told [Capitol President/CEO] Mike Dungan several times that this was it. We knew I had one shot at a first single. If this was going to work, we'd have a long career. If this didn't work, it was over. We knew that. I think we picked the right song. It would have been a real uphill battle if the first single didn't work."

Rucker says launching a country career changed the stakes. "Even though I've had all that success, this has nothing to do with that, and it's just me. In a group, when anything bad happened, it was one-fourth of the bad for me. Now I get 100% of the bad, but I also get 100% of the good, so that's OK."

And as many artists from other formats have found, the Country community is unlike anything previously experienced. "It's amazing to me," Rucker says. "I'm friends with maybe 20 PDs. I have their number, they have my number, we text each other, and I don't think I knew five program directors in Rock. I may have met them, but we weren't friends. To have that accessibility is something I never thought about in the rock world."

"Country artists are so lucky in not just the relationships they have with radio, but the relationships they have with their fans. You come to CMA Fest and see someone who's willing to sign five hours of autographs, but you also see that fan who's willing to stand and wait for five hours. That's why country artists last so long."

Crook & Chase Silver Anniversary

Congrats to Lorianne Crook and Charlie Chase as they celebrate their 25th anniversary as a broadcast team on both TV and radio tomorrow, Sept. 23. According to their publicist, this makes them the longest-running broadcast duo still on the air.

MY TUNES: MUSIC THAT SHAPED MY LIFE

Jeff Garrison

CBS Radio VP/Country and KILT/Houston OM/PD Jeff Garrison discusses his most important songs, albums or concerts:

1. The Beatles, Sgt. Peppers Lonely Hearts Club Band: This album changed all music, from production to songwriting, forever. I was blown away the first time I heard it.

2. Garth Brooks, "The Dance": One of the greatest songs ever written. It brought all the females from all formats to the Country dance – a game-changer for the format.

3. Peter Gabriel, "Don't Give Up": Never give up. Starting out in radio when I was 18, I often wondered if having this much fun could ever give me a career. I keep showing up and never gave up!

4. Randy Travis, "Forever & Ever Amen": This song was the catapult for the Country format to lean female instead of what it had been historically – a male format.

5. Shania Twain, "Man I Feel Like A Woman": Changed the sound of country music. Having Mutt Lange produce raised the bar for all other production coming out of Nashville.

• What was your first concert: Rush in 1978. And I've had the pleasure to attend hundreds of shows in many musical styles. Rolling Stones in the Cotton Bowl, 1989, was outrageous. They did "Sympathy for the Devil" and Mick Jagger was on top of the trestle standing in the middle of a full moon overhead. It was off the chain!

• An "important" piece of music you just don't get: Little Wayne's "Millie." I can't hear a word in that song.

• One obscure or non-country song everyone should listen to right now: Paper Planes "MIA" is different.

Crook & Chase signed on in 1983 with This Week In Country Music, produced by Jim Owens.

They've worked together on several series including nightly television show Music City Tonight and daily syndicated television program The Crook & Chase Show. They currently host the syndicated radio show The Crook & Chase Countdown and Crook & Chase on RFD-TV. Chase co-hosts Tennessee Mornings on Nashville's Fox affiliate, while Crook hosts GAC's Celebrities Offstage, CMA Celebrity Closeup and RFD-TV's Celebrity Kitchen.

Artist News

Todd O'Neill will donate songwriting royalties from his single "Cajun Queen" to Louisiana hurricane victims. Interesting fact: also listed as a co-writer on the song is WYNK/Baton Rouge afternoon host Scott Innes.

Country Crossings, a division of James Stroud's Stroudavarious Records, has signed Aaron Tippin. Stroud is co-producing a new album with Tippin.

Montgomery Gentry, Phil Vassar, Heidi Newfield and Rodney Atkins will join Charlie Daniels as performers at the 12th Annual Christmas For Kids benefit concert Nov. 24 at the Ryman Auditorium. Proceeds from the Tour Bus Tour, which is set for Dec. 15, will also go to the Christmas For Kids organization.

SOLID will present the 2nd Annual Women Rock For The Cure Oct. 2 at 6pm at Nashville's 3rd & Lindsley. Emily West, Rachel Proctor and Jessi Alexander are set to perform with special guests. All proceeds will be donated to the Susan G. Komen Foundation's Greater Nashville Race For The Cure. Tickets are $15 in advance and $20 at the door.

The Road Hammers are challenging fans to call 615-823-5560 and sing the chorus of their new single "I've Got The Scars To Prove It." The fan that wins the band's heart will receive an autographed guitar, and five runners-up with get a copy of the band's Blood, Sweat & Steel.

In anticipation of the Oct. 7 Presidential Debate at Nashville's Belmont University, Brad Paisley, Julie Roberts, Josh Turner and Trisha Yearwood (all Belmont alums) will perform for visiting guests Oct. 5 at the Ryman Auditorium.

Vince Gill will serve as a special guest at the R.O.P.E. Golden Banquet and Awards Show Oct. 9 at Nashville's Al Menah Shiner's Temple. The

Aaron Tippin, Bill Catino and James Stroud

Vince Gill

Time Jumpers will also pay tribute to John Hughey.

Taylor Swift's "White Horse," a song from her upcoming album, will be heard in the season premiere of ABC's Grey's Anatomy Sept. 25 at 8p CT. Swift has been a fan of the show since its launch.

Marty Stuart will celebrate his 50th birthday with an hour-long bash as part of GAC's Opry Live Sept 27 at 8pm CT. Keith Urban and Stuart's wife Connie Smith will join him onstage, as will other surprise guests. Stuart will also renovate dressing room No. 14, previously belonging to the late Porter Wagoner, which will now serve as his home away from home.

Jewel and American Express are offering fans a VIP Backstage Experience that includes an acoustic pre-show performance, Arrington Vineyards wine and cheese, a photo opportunity and a tote with a Jewel t-shirt, CD and autographed "Stronger Woman" sheet music. Tickets are available for all Jewel concert dates for American Express Card members only.

Songwriter James House ("Broken Wing" "Ain't That Lonely Yet") has signed with Friday Records. He has two albums set for release: On This Christmas Night, with an October street date and a new country album to be out early next year.

Sign O' The Times

You know media dynamics are changing when the Emmy-winning entry for "Outstanding Commercial" has never been on TV. Despite never showing on the boob tube, Anheuser-Busch says its "Swear Jar" spot has been viewed by more than 12 million people via the Internet. The viral ad depicts what happens to an office when a "swear jar" is introduced and workers are told a case of Bud Light will be bought with the proceeds. DDB

There's a reason that Steven Spielberg storyboards his movies. But most jocks think they can wing it and sound good. The reality is that if you get all the left brain organizational stuff out of the way before the mike ever opens, then all you have to do is relax into the doing of what you planned. That's what gives you what I call "useable spontaneity," rather than just "chasing rabbits" (stream-of-consciousness blather).

• Bring the listener in: Start by talking about me (the listener), or by putting the subject on the table. Don't start by talking about yourself. PPM is showing us is that the first eight or 10 seconds decide whether listeners even finish listening to this break or not, much less the rest of this quarter-hour, or this hour. Instead of "I watched American Idol last night," say, "If you missed American Idol last night." Or, "American Idol was a hoot last night." The first is about you, the second is about me (the listener) and the last is about the subject.

JEREMY McCOMB "COLD"

"It's funny, I usually have to listen to a song several times before I get it. With 'Cold,' I had to listen over and over again because I couldn't get enough of it. Jeremy is a star and he just delivered our first big hit for Fall!"

- Billy Greenwood, PD, 93.7 The Bull (KSD-FM)

"Wow, this song grabs you right from the start. It has a very contemporary sound... and just flows right into the chorus like a lazy river ride."

- Justin Case, PD WZZK

"He has an unmatched charisma and chemistry with the audience. He is a talented, and fun guy. His music is great by itself, but his personality makes you want the show to keep going and going and 'Cold' is the song to set the stage."

- Craig Allen, MD KXKT
