Country Radio's Dominant Dozen

Country radio stations on the Country Aircheck/Mediabase reporting panel have played almost 8.7 million songs from January 1 to Aug. 24, 2008. Only 12 artists have received more than 200,000 plays each, which includes every possible category of airplay. The Dominant Dozen includes one woman, one group, two duos and one retiree.

Leading the pack with almost 400,000 spins is Kenny Chesney, followed by Toby Keith, Rascal Flatts, Tim McGraw, Brad Paisley, George Strait, Alan Jackson, Brooks & Dunn, Carrie Underwood, Montgomery Gentry, Keith Urban and Garth Brooks, who posted just over 202,000 plays for the year. Those 12 artists account for an incredible 39% of all Country airplay in 2008, garnering almost 3.4 million collective spins.

In past years I've written about the Magnificent Seven of Country airplay. While members of the group varied through the course of time, the Mag 7 consistently delivered more than 33% of all Country airplay at any given time. That percentage has now dropped to 26% for the current top seven.

Double Dog Snare Ya: Kennedy & Moxley

Confirming the long-brewing hire of promotion vet Rick Moxley as head of promotion Monday afternoon wasn't quite enough for the Show Dog brain trust, so they added the hiring of longtime former Capitol/Nashville VP/Sales Bill Kennedy as well. Kennedy, who spent 14 years with Capitol before falling to cutbacks in June, has been named head of sales & marketing for the label.

"I have known Bill Kennedy for a very long time and he is the gold standard in this business," Show Dog GM George Nunes says. Kennedy replaces Johnny Rose, who had been with Show Dog since its formative days in Aug. 2005, and exited Friday (8/22).

MY TUNES: MUSIC THAT SHAPED MY LIFE

Arista/Nashville VP/Promotion Skip Bishop (skip.bishop@sonybmg.com) discusses his most important songs, albums or concerts:

1. Three Miles Davis Albums: Sketches of Spain, Kind of Blue and Birth of Cool. I discovered them all simultaneously and they changed how I listen to music, how I saw things and how I thought. It was like falling into a sea of new possibilities.

2. Johnny Cash/Ring of Fire: I can remember as a kid being drawn to the lyrical portrait of love as pain. It scared me a little but I couldn't get enough. I rode my bike to Woolworth and plopped down my allowance for the 45. I liked Marty Robbins at the time and I wondered if they knew each other. The song still reminds me of that dark, beautiful mystery I felt as a youngster.

3. The Byron Pop Festival, Atlanta, 1969: Jimi Hendrix, Chicago Transit Authority (a rocking, brilliant, progressive precursor to Chicago), Grand Funk Railroad, Cat Mother and the All Night News Boys, Lee Michaels, T-Rex, Goose Creek Symphony, on and on and on. Saw a lot of things for the first time. "Momma told me not to come."

4. Ray Charles, The Blue Note, New York: The room holds about 200 souls. My beautiful wife and I got there early, had dinner and got a table right in front of the stage. Still shaking.

5. Alan Jackson, Precious Memories concert, Ryman Auditorium: Alan's daughter's school choir opened the show. Everyone was given the lyrics to the hymns. We stood and sang along with Alan, family and friends. It was genuine. It was Nashville. That night I knew I was home.

6. Joni Mitchell, Blue: Maybe one of the best albums ever recorded. Simple, powerful, pure, sad, heart wrenching and joyous. And then you turned it over.

• An "important" piece of music you just don't get: Mannheim Steamroller. No wonder suicides are high during the holidays.

• An album you played or listened to incessantly: Beatles White Album, Hendrix Are You Experienced?, Grateful Dead Workingman's Dead (one tick to the left of a country record).

• One obscure or non-country song everyone should listen to right now: Leonard Cohen's "Song of Bernadette."

BMI previous fiscal year. The company will disperse $786 million to songwriters, composers and copyright owners, an 8% increase from last year.

Dominant Dozen

But don't let that fool you into thinking that the concentration of airplay from a relatively few artists is diminishing. Here's a sobering thought: Of the 8.7 million Country radio plays this year, only 18 acts account for 50% of all that airplay. That's right, take the spins from the Top 12, add in (in order) Taylor Swift, Rodney Atkins, Sugarland, Trace Adkins, Dierks Bentley and Gary Allan – and you get one-half of all current songs played so far in 2008.

As part of this exercise, we also checked Mediabase 24/7's "Big Picture" overview of monitored-station airplay across all genres. It's interesting to note that Chesney is not the top-ranking

Thursday 8/28 - Randy Houser, Late Show with David Letterman (CBS); Ricky Skaggs & The Whites, Crook & Chase (RFD-TV).

Sunday 8/31 - Dierks Bentley, Superstar Sessions (GAC).

Monday 9/1 - Taylor Swift, Alan Jackson, Montgomery Gentry, Kenny Chesney, Faith Hill, Gary Allan, Alabama and more, Superstar Sessions (GAC).

Tuesday 9/2 - Martina McBride, The Collection (GAC).

Country artist on that list. That honor goes to Taylor Swift, who comes in 11th. Chesney is 12th, just 900 or so plays behind. Next come Rascal Flatts (15), Toby Keith (21), Tim McGraw (22), Brad Paisley (24), George Strait (26), Alan Jackson (28) and Carrie Underwood (30).

Taylor Swift's inclusion in both these lists deserves special mention. She does so with fewer hits (at least on the Country list) and a shorter chart life-span than any other act represented. Hell, most Country stations haven't even moved her first single – "Tim McGraw" – into the Power Gold category yet.

On the down side, no artist in the Top 12 and only a few in the Top 18, have had initial hits in the last five years or so.

The bigger question is what that concentration of airplay from a relative handful of artists means for Country radio and its listeners. Is there an "artist fatigue" factor that can affect Time Spent Listening? Does artist repetition turn into a perception of song repetition for listeners? And, aren't both those things magnified with multiple Country outlets in a market? Is it any wonder, then, that people think all Country stations sound alike?

A lot of questions. But one thing's for sure. It's incumbent on this format to develop new stars and hits. Otherwise, all that sameness could take us down the same old sewer.

JEREMY McCOMB

"COLD"

"It's funny, I usually have to listen to a song several times before I get it. With 'Cold,' I had to listen over and over again because I couldn't get enough of it. Jeremy is a star and he just delivered our first big hit for Fall!"

- Billy Greenwood, PD, 93.7 The Bull (KSD-FM)
