A&O Pre-CRS Agenda Set

Education and encouragement. What could be more important in these challenging times? CRS Tuesday, March 3, is an almost perfect balance of these two key professional pillars, thanks to Albright & O'Malley's 2009 Pre-CRS Client Seminar and the Country DJ & Radio Hall of Fame Dinner, which has long been one of this industry's most uplifting events.

The action starts in the Country Music Hall of Fame's Ford Theater at 12:15pm as Lyric Street, a co-sponsor of A&O's event with Country Aircheck, presents Josh Gracin. Eat a big breakfast, or have an early lunch at the Hall's SoBro Grill (which opens at 11am), as the pace will be fast and factual.

12:30 "What's Next For Radio?" Keynote by Jeff Vidler. A media research specialist with a background in radio, Canadian Vidler will outline the new landscape for radio in this hyper-tight economy and discuss expected changes to research, programming and marketing.

1:15 "Monopolize Your Marketplace" with authors Richard Harshaw and Joshua Ramsey. Highlighted by four formulas for making your business more valuable in its marketplace.

Rich Turns "Detroit" Around

Twenty days. That's the elapsed time from John Rich writing "Shuttin' Detroit Down" to it debuting at No. 41 on today's Country Aircheck/Mediabase Country chart.

Rich wrote the song just prior to an upper Midwest radio tour supporting his solo album and single "Another You." "John dropped by the Dr. Don Morning Show and surprised everyone with his new song," says WYCD PD Tim Roberts. "He talked about watching the news and getting angry about how the blue-collar worker was getting dumped on while rich bankers were thriving. After playing the song, our staff was literally in tears and then the miracle of live, local radio occurred – the phones starting ringing off the hook with those who'd been laid off, knew people who had or were just empathetic. We begged John for a copy and he obliged.

"We played it every 99.5 minutes for a few days and people are crazy over it. I started getting calls from the local media and it just keeps growing."

WBCT/Grand Rapids PD Doug Montgomery, who also does the music for Clear Channel sister WDTW/Detroit, also happened to be on one of the stops of Rich's radio tour. "Not only did John nail the essence of what is wrong in our country (USA), he also nailed what is wrong with our country

Just in case you missed Lon's synopsis of the WKIS Chili-Cook Off last week, he pretty much summed up everything we are excited about regarding Justin. Not only talent...but the work ethic to match...

"Justin Moore kicked off the show shortly after 10am and put on a great show in front of 10,000 folks who had already made their way in. We're not sure if WKIS added Moore to its' payroll, but it sure sounded like it. I was listening to KISS while driving back from a small get-together at Boesen's place. It was Saturday after 11pm when Moore called in and chatted with weekend talent Hurley, who did a great job handling a spur of the moment interview with a new artist. The next morning, just after 7am, there was Moore again, on the air with morning teamers Terry and Staci Coffey. Moore also cut a video with the Coffeys. It was really great to see a young artist working as hard as Moore did."

(Music)," Montgomery says. "Michigan has unemployment rates in double-digits. Hope is lacking. But here comes John Rich, not with your usual watered-down Nashville song-factory fare, but with a song that hits to the essence of where our audience's minds are at now. In these days of disposable Pop masquerading as Country, it is nice to have a protest song that the icons who built country music into an art form would be proud of."

The song had 29 adds today, so stations outside of the region appear to be giving it a shot. But whether or not it plays in Peoria may well depend on how literally listeners take the song's message.

It's for that reason that Regent VP/Programming Bob Moody suggested in his weekly music memo that PDs proceed with caution. "There are a lot of people who think the U.S. automakers created their own problems," Moody wrote. "Those folks won't be singing along in the Toyota. And I'm not sure that workers getting laid off at Home Depot and Caterpillar (headquartered in Peoria, home of Regent's Country WFYR) will be very sympathetic [to auto industry bailouts]. You may want to preview it on the morning show and see what kind of reaction you get."

Not surprisingly, it is once again Country music and Country radio that are exhibiting quick reactions as the nation goes through a difficult stretch. And this time, John Rich is leading the way.

MY TUNES: MUSIC THAT SHAPED MY LIFE

Lisa Allen

WCYK/Charlottesville, VA PD Lisa Allen discusses her most important songs, artists or concerts:

1. The Archies/Sugar, Sugar: The single was made of cardboard and I got it from the back of a box of Alpha Bits. I hated Alpha Bits, but I made my mom buy it for the record.

2. Elton John, Breaking Hearts Tour, 1984: It was my first rock concert. My car broke down at the Hollywood Sportatorium in Florida (known as the "Snortatorium") and I didn't get home till 3AM. To this day it is still the best concert I've ever been to.

3. Kim Richey, Kim Richey: The CD was released on Mercury around 13 years ago and is still my favorite. I love every song and can probably identify with every one of them.

4. Garth Brooks, Portland, ME, 1996: Everybody in the audience sang every song at the top of their lungs. That night was magic!

5. Garth Brooks, No Fences: Truly a masterpiece.

• A highly regarded song or album you've never heard: Amy Winehouse. I've heard bits and pieces of "Rehab" on awards shows, but I can't find a compelling reason to listen to the CD.

• An "important" piece of music you just don't get: Queen's "Bohemian Rhapsody." The scene in "Wayne's World" while they were driving around in the Pinto (or was it a Pacer?) was cute, but I just don't get the song.

• An album you played or listened to incessantly: Meet the Monkees. My brother got so sick of hearing it that he poured a bottle of baby powder on it while it was spinning on the turntable.

• One obscure or non-country song everyone should listen to right now: "Do We Still" by Rockie Lynne. It was only a minor hit, but a brilliantly written hook.

Industry News

Julianne Hough, Kellie Pickler, LeAnn Rimes and Jessica Simpson will announce 44th Annual ACM Awards nominees at the Country Music Hall of Fame & Museum Feb. 11 at 7:30am. The show airs live from Las Vegas April 5.

The Artists And Fans Network (AFN) launched last month on DirecTV (channel 325) reaching 17 million households. Dir./
