Three Enshrined On A Magical Night

Ralph Emery, Vince Gill and Mel Tillis were welcomed into the Country Music Hall of Fame last night during the Medallion Ceremony that has now replaced the CMA Awards show as the official induction into the Hall. From Randy Scruggs' opening acoustic guitar solo of "Amazing Grace" to the entire band of Hall of Famers singing the traditional finale "Will The Circle Be Unbroken," it was a night of stories, emotion and music.

And, oh, the music. Even better, the stories about the music and why it was important to the inductee's careers. During the Ralph Emery tribute, Raul Malo sang the Marty Robbins classic, "You Gave Me A Mountain" in honor of Robbins, who appeared on Emery's radio show more than any other artist. The Gaither Vocal Band sang "Yes, I Know." Con Hunley – who performed the very first and the very last songs on Emery's TNN show Nashville Now – sang "Since I Fell For You." Ray Stevens played piano and said he wanted to sing "Everything Is Beautiful" for Ralph because it was a positive song, and Ralph was always positive – "never wanting to bring anyone down."

Paying tribute to Gill, Emmylou Harris

Nashville Now: Country Music Hall of Fame inductee Ralph Emery is joined by wife Joy (r) and CMA's Tammy Genovese.

GOT STORIES?

The year is winding down and Country Aircheck's year-end print publication is drawing near. As we wrap up 2007, we're looking to chronicle the year through your eyes. Have a unique perspective on something awe-inspiring, humbling, funny or strange that happened this year? Got a photo to go with it? Drop us a line at stories07@countryaircheck.com. C'mon, we'll make ya famous!

and Rodney Crowell teamed for "Some Things Never Get Old." Michael McDonald led Gill's band in an incredibly soulful rendition of "Go Rest High On That Mountain." Guy Clark prefaced his song "The Randall Knife" – which Gill referenced in his song "The Key To Life" – by noting he had sung it several times in the past for Vince, adding, "Just remember – any time, any place." Big Al Anderson was next with a song he co-wrote with Gill and John Hobbs, "The Next Big Thing."

The night's final set reminded folks that Mel Tillis is an amazing songwriter. His range was displayed in a trio of hits. Bobby Bare did "Detroit City," noting that he has sung it in every concert he's done since it became a hit in 1963.

Hall Inductions

Kenny Rogers recalled that it was the late promotion veteran Frank Leffel who first brought the Tillis-penned "Ruby, Don't Take Your Love To Town" to his attention. "It was on a Roger Miller album," said Rogers. "I had 15 minutes left in a session and told Jimmy Bowen about it. He told me it would never get played. I said, 'But if it does, it will be huge.'"

The rest is history, of course. But Rogers also noted, "A lot of people write great songs, but not many people write important songs. This song was not anti-war; it was anti-the affects of war. I've performed in 55 countries ... and there are only two songs everyone knows - 'The Gambler' ... and Ruby."

Dierks Bentley performed "I Ain't Never" - a hit for both Webb Pierce and Tillis. Mel's daughter Pam Tillis also was on hand to sing "Coca Cola Cowboy" from the 1978 movie Every

Which Way But Loose, a song Mel didn't write but served to represent his any silver-screens appearances.

Separating the Hall of Fame Medallion Ceremony from many other special nights in Music City are the stories and the personal asides about the inductees. Among the evening's highlights was Rodney Crowell explaining the origins of his nickname for Gill: "Benefit." And it's not because of Gill's philanthropic contributions. Crowell said he always called Gill "Vincent," which Crowell's young daughter translated into "benefit." "It's so apropos," said Crowell, "Since all of us have benefited from having you in our lives." Later, Al Anderson carried on the theme when he said of Gill, "For all he's done for others, no one sits on a higher pedestal than Vince Gill."

Inducting Gill, Hall of Famer Bill Anderson recalled that following the release of his four-CD set These Days, "Vince wanted to be known as quad-cephus." As he prepared to hang the medal around Gill's neck, Anderson noted that "Go Rest High On That Mountain" is played at more funeral services than any other song in this country. Anderson closed, "Vince, no one who knows you expects you to rest high on this mountain. Just enjoy the view, because you've earned it."

Making the night even more special for Gill was that it was also the 82nd birthday of his mother, Jerene, who was on hand to witness her son's induction.

Gill began by thanking all of the Hall of Famers in the room. "I learned from you all," he said. "Thank you for inspiring me with the records you made and the songs you wrote." He ended the no-notes straight from the heart remarks with, "To every musician I ever played a note with, you are going in this hall with me. I've enjoyed every role I've ever played [in this business] – in the front, in the back – it didn't matter. I just wanted to be in the band. First and foremost I go into this hall as a musician."

Tillis, who first came to Nashville as a songwriter, wanted to be a singer. But he was told by a label exec, "We don't need a stuttering singer – we don't have that much plastic." Recalling another setback, Mel recounted appearing on Porter Wagoner's TV show. "I got a real lot of fan mail," Mel dead-panned. "And Porter fired me." He closed, "I am a blessed man, and I want to thank this little angel on my shoulder."

Sunday (11/4) – Faith Hill, Faith Hill: Fireflies (CMT)

Monday (11/5) – Carrie Underwood, The Ellen DeGeneres Show (syndicated).

Throughout the night, many recalled how Ralph Emery either gave them their first break, was their first interview or was the first to play their records. Emery was credited with breaking the Buck Owens classic "Together Again." Emery concluded his remarks by quoting an inspirational essay from a Tennessee Ernie Ford album. Attributed to an unknown soldier speaking of the things he asked of God, it ends "I got nothing that I asked for, but everything I had hoped for. Almost despite myself, my unspoken prayers were answered. I am among all men most richly blessed."

And so were all of us in the Hall last night to witness the induction of three of Country's finest. As Dierks Bentley said of the event, "it's the last link to the good stuff."

DEBUTING ON:

ACC Top 40 with Kix Brooks & Bob Kingsley's Country Top 40

"After three straight tests at #1 we're moving this song to HEAVY!!"

- Dale Carter, PD, KFKF/Kansas City

"We not only added 'Rollin' With The Flow,' we put it in heavy rotation."

- Charlye Parker, KHAY/Oxnard

"Mark Chesnutt nails this song! He's one of the best pure singers ever."

- John Sebastian, PD, The Wolf/Dallas

"Mark Chesnutt has a home run...already number one in requests."

- Dr. Bruce Nelson, KFTX/Corpus Christi

"He remains one of our very finest vocal stylists. I can't say enough good things about this guy's talent. I'll always be in his corner."

- Robert K. Oermann, Music Row
